Friends of Hardy Lake	An all-volunteer group organized in 2002 to support the Dwight R. Chamberlain Raptor Rehabilitation Center and the Hardy Lake property in Scott County, Indiana. The donations collected go toward rehabilitating and eventual release of raptors back into the wild. Permanently injured raptors are used as educational ambassadors throughout Indiana. They are taken to organizations such as schools, nursing homes, and civic groups. They are the only state-owned raptor hospital. The state furnishes the building, utilities, and pays the Naturalist, but all other costs such as veterinary bills, medical supplies, food, and equipment is covered by donations.
